TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1864.

Piñero's Decline and Fall of the Argentine Republic.

Since Senator Piñero walked down to Congress with Montesquieu in his pocket, and fulminated against the whole Argentine army, public attention has been concentrated on the circumstances attending the decline and fall of the Roman Empire.

On so propitious an occasion we feel it our duty to give publicity to evils of a more transcendant importance, and of a less questionable character than those complained of by the Cordoveso senator.

The vehality of the Roman army is no doubt a matter of history, but the downfall of that Empire, although accelerated, was never effected by such a cause, and if there is any analogy between the dark epochs of the history of the Romans and the modern democratic rule of Buenos Ayres, it is we hold more in the present than the present condition of the camp than the alleged corrupt state of our army.

The merest tyro in Roman history knows that the immediate cause of the downfall of the Roman Empire was the invasion of the Goths and the Huns. The camps of Buenos Ayres are this moment overrun by a lot of gauchos who only want an Alaric at their head to bring about like results, and God help this province if Don Mariano Acosta is the only Stilicho that can be found.

The abolition of the passport system in the port of Buenos Ayres was a boon to every foreigner and native who entered or left the country, but it has proved the greatest curse imaginable in the camp districts; for since papeletas have been done away with the facilities for plunder have been so much augmented that property in cattle, horses, and even sheep is now almost without the slightest protection.

Every day instances of the most daring robberies are being brought under our notice. An English gentleman of Canuelas lost a large and valuable tropilla of horses, including his carriage horses; where they were taken to, no one can say; but the general belief is that they were driven up towards the Arroyo medio. An Irishman from the Baradero is at present in town, who caught a fellow trying to sell a tropilla of horses which belong to a Scotch gentleman in Chascomus. Now the robber had to drive these horses through over a dozen of partidos, and yet in not one of them was he stopped and obliged to account for himself or the horses. Some few months ago a 'provisciano' drove a flock of over 2500 sheep from the partido of Carmen de Areco, which flock we were told consisted of various classes of sheep of every imaginable señal, and yet until he got into Santa Fe it was not discovered that he had no guia or document to show his title to the senates. We could cite, if necessary, more than one hundred other cases to prove the utter absence of camp police or camp authority in the province of Buenos Ayres, and we most unhesitatingly assert that the rural regulations and official vigilance in Santa Fe, and some of the other provinces are infinitely superior to those of the province in which M. Piñero resides. Vagabond gauchos who have no visible means of living, are watched and tracked in Santa Fe, but in Buenos Ayres they are as free as the 'hacienda alzada,' and roam at will. Is it any wonder that under such circumstances crime within the last few years has so frightfully increased in our partidos, and that our newly arrived fellow countrymen prefer the Rio de Santa Fe to Buenos Ayres, when they will find that

It is all very well for the Cordoveso senator, who very possibly possesses no material interest in the camp, to call attention to the army always in Bahia Blanca or the Rio Quarto, but had he singled out M. Acosta instead of Gelly y Obes, had he raised his voice in the halls of Congress to puncture the democracy of plunder in almost every partido of Buenos Ayres, had he called attention to the ominous diminution of justice, to the heinous impunity of crime which exists in every district; had he thrilled the house with the number of bloody camp murders perpetrated within the last three years; had he told the senators in the gifted language of Montesquieu, of the Vandals and Huns which prowl about the camp, he would have made for himself a character and a name very different from those which he enjoys.

Old residents of the camp, both native and foreign, assure us that never in their recollection and there has been such an utter absence of authority, such a devil-may-care license as at present. In former times the alcaldes were on the alert, and no more would pass from one partido to another without previously taking out license, but Argentine democracy has long since abolished this, and whether we attribute the change to the dream of a republican poet, or the effeminate administration of our present ruler the result is the same—Santiagueños, Santa Fecinos, San Juaninos, San Luisianos, and all the Banda Oriental Argentines and Cisplatinos have swarmed down upon this province either in search of plunder or employment, we cannot say which, probably both. Numbers go from north to south, from east to west perfectly unmolested. Some have good tropillas of horses, 'quien sabe' who are the owners, others in garments which bespeak suspicion.

Keenly alive to the ultimate consequences of permitting such an influx in an open country like Buenos Ayres, we take Montesquieu from Piñero and preach his text. The venality of the Roman army made absolute despots emperors, but the downfall of Rome was caused by the incursions of the Goths and Huns. A mind so imbued with the principles of the old Piñero cannot fail to draw the sequence.

SHOCKING GAUCHO OUTRAGE

The criminal courts have just brought to a close the case of a most shocking character, but we regret to say he is at liberty, and so far the judicial proceedings which have occupied the long term of three years and three months, are a hollow farce.

Isidro Gomez nicknamed Manco-piedra was drinking in a pulperia at San Nicolas on March 23rd 1861. The house belonged to one Baldomero Gonzales, and a woman named Justina Dunda who was serving out the liquor states that Manco-piedra drank two quarts and a half of gin. There was also present a very old man, Dionisio Monson, with whom the gaucho Manco-piedra soon struck up a quarrel: the latter said "he was the greatest fighter (guapo) in the country," whereupon Monson out of joke challenged him. Manco-piedra told him" to cut beef a few days longer as he was hardly worth killing." Monson opened his coat and said "you see I cannot fight you as I have no arms," and immediately Manco-piedra rushed on him and stabbed him. The poor old man went away bleeding, saying "it is only play." Presently Manco-piedra followed him to the back of the shop, and commenced rolling up his shirt sleeves as if to cover Monson said challingly "would you do me the favor to fight me?" to which the other replied with a savage laugh, and in the same words as before.

Monson was going home when the gaucho mounted his horse and overtaking him said "you have joked with me a little, now I'll play you a heavy joke," and took him up behind him on the horse galloping off towards the cemetery where he said he would kill him. The semi-inebriate Almada and several neighbors followed to rescue the poor old man who was tied around the waist of Manco-piedra by a poncho. The ruffian put spurs to his horse, but was at last overtaken, when alighting from his horse he pulled out a knife and wounded two of his pursuers, but was ultimately disarmed and captured.

In March 1863 the trial was not yet concluded (after two years) and Manco-piedra with several other scoundrels escaped from prison on the 2nd of the month, in the town of San Nicolas. A policeman named Francisco Zarate attempted to pursue them, but was stopped since then there is no news of them. It does not appear that the relatives of his wounds, but that he was "drunk. Manco-piedra is now knocking about the camps, among that class of vagrants which is the terror of our industrious sheep farmers: he is regularly on

The opera of Traviata was advertised for Colon Theatre on Sunday evening, but the Company broke down after the singing of Libiamo; at least it was understood that Sor Lefini was too indisposed to sing, and some confusion ensued. Two acts of Norma and some scenes from Faust were given by way of compromise, but we learn from a person who was present, that the occurrence was disagreeable. Our Peruvian friends will say it is a just punishment for the refusal of the shareholders to lend the theatre for the "sympathy" meeting.

The 4th of July Celebration

Owing to the lateness of the hour when the friends of America broke up from celebrating the 88th Anniversary, we are obliged to hold over our report until to-morrow. Suffice it for the present to say, that it was the greatest 4th of July commemoration ever known in this city. It seemed as if all the friends of the old star-spangled banner rallied round it on this day to show their adhesion to the principles of Washington, and the lawful Government of the United States. The President and his Minister, Governor Saavedra, and other notabilities, made fine speeches.

Central Argentine Railway.

The citizens of Cordoba have put to shame the capitalists of Buenos Ayres, several of them having subscribed for 50 or 100 shares each, and making a total of double the amount of stock taken by our native friends in B. Ayres. We believe the return of shares is as follows: allotted in London to divers parties, 30,000; taken by Messrs Hessy, Wythes & Wheelwright, 10,000; guaranteed by Mr. Wheelwright for this Republic, 10,000. Of the last we have allotted in Buenos Ayres, 1,870; in Cordoba, 1,700; in Rosario, 1,300, and subscribed by National Government, 2,000, leaving 3,000 yet to be disposed of. Gen Urquiza promised some time ago to take 1,000 shares, but in any event, the rest will soon be taken up. The total, 50,000 shares, represents one million sterling, which is reckoned sufficient for the present, but the nominal capital is £1,000,000.

Afflicting News from Corrientes.

In one sense the news from this province may be so called, on the other hand they may be termed cheering, for according to the latest accounts numerous robberies have taken place, but in each instance the disciple of Cacus has abandoned the place, which is thus weeded of some obnoxious plants. A thrifty clergyman whose acts of piety had brought him some 350 onz., was robbed of the whole by a person of good connections in the locality; the robber has fled with his family, but the cure is in hot pursuit, and if the chase be not long will in all probability catch him. In like manner a poor goose of a tailor who has been cabbaging from the parish has fled, leaving large liabilities and no assets. A young German, supposed to be a native of Schleswig Holstein, has also cleared out; he had been employed in a barber's shop, and has proved a keen customer to walking off with all the poor barber's ounces.

Things are very dull in Corrientes, and it is said that the big wig in the city are greatly opposed to the circulation of the Maua Bank notes.

USELESS PROCESSION.

A procession took place on Sunday from Santa Domingo to celebrate the defeat of the English invaders in 1806. In England we no longer celebrate the anniversary of Waterloo, and Argentines can hardly remember 88 years ago.

CORDOBA,

A Peruvian meeting took place on the 19th ult. at Cordoba. We read of another Indian invasion, on the 10th ult. Colonel Balzorres says the savages were over 100 in number, and came within two leagues of the town of Rio Cuarto. It does not appear that the garrison molested them, although they were laden with heavy booty of cattle, horses, etc.

ON CHANGE,

The specie market was very weak to-day as the Helen King was selling heavily for cash and buying lightly on time.

There was very little animation on Change to-day, as all the American merchants were at the Minister's, and most of the other merchants were busy writing for the packet.

We hear that over £80,000 was drawn for the packet, notwithstanding that she sailed so early.

Some business was done in salted hides, 12,000 from Entre Rios and Corrientes at 40 rls., and a lot of dry hides for the States—4000 at 39rls The arrivals of produce casstwise were for Saturday, Sunday and Monday extremely heavy.

Royal Insurance Company.

FIRE AND LIFE.

CAPITAL TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

This important company, in many respects the greatest of its kind in the present age, appointed an agency in this city. The head offices are in London and Liverpool and their agencies extend to Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dublin, Belfast, Birmingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Manchester, Southampton, Montreal, Toronto and other cities.

The Royal is a remarkable, if not the most remarkable instance of its settlements: for the largest life houses [illegible] per annum] were continuously carried during 15 years by any Co.; for the enormous outlay of its premium income, which in 1863 reached £1,000,000 sterling, and for the annual [illegible] of £1,000,000 sterling, which has given rise to the proverb "as safe as the Royal," and for the unrivalled funds in hand, one of a million sterling; for its annual income, over half-a-million sterling, and for the annual [illegible] of its liability policy. Hence the English press of all countries, and financial and leading papers, speaks in the highest terms of this Company.

The report for 1863 shows that "within the precincts of the old Corporation of London it sold more industrial property [illegible] the amount now exceeds one million sterling. The Company, during 15 years, has paid claims to the amount of £1,000,000 sterling.

Messrs. H. A. GREEN & Co. are authorized to issue Policies for Fire and Life to a very large amount at very favorable premiums, the Co. being anxious to extend its business hereabouts, which already shows an annual increase of £60,000. Life claims can be settled, without reference to England, for further particulars please apply to

Subscriptions in Paper Money.

The Directors, wishing to enlarge the operations of the Society, have acceded to the request of many people in this city, and determined to issue shares payable in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, under the following conditions:—

Article 05—From the 1st of April, 1864, shares shall be issued to such persons as may wish to pay in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, and in accordance with Article 17 chapter 3 of the Statutes of the Society, the lowest sum receivable being $200 annually, payable in one sum, or in instalments, subject to the following rates:

1st.—For Paper Money Subscribers sections will be opened and kept separate from Silver Money Subscribers.

2nd.—The liquidation of the sums belonging to the sections of Paper Money Subscribers will be administered according to Article 31 of the Statutes, and for account of those particular sections.

By these means the Directory hopes to gain its object, which is to enable the poorer classes to enjoy all the advantages of the Society.

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA & C.

No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co, in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workingmen & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities to this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
